We're growing limbs*
in La Jolla

And who knows what else is going on behind the doors of our very own world-class "collaboratory," the Sanford Consortium for Regenerative Medicine**, a pristine $127 million campus that opened in La Jolla late last year. And now, "armed" with a $43 million grant from the California Institute for Regenerative Medicine, a state agency, and $30 million from T. Denny Sanford, we're well on our way.

*Or we will be soon enough, thanks to advanced stem cell research.

**That's the Sanford Burnham Medical Research Institute, the Salk Institute for Biological Studies, The Scripps Research Institute, the University of California, San Diego, and La Jolla Institute for Allergy and Immunology.
